ALMA MATER

Here's to our dear Alma Mater,
Ever she will stand
For all that we love and cherish;
Best school in the land.

Praises sing to dear old Epsom
'Til they reach the sky.
Love and loyalty we pledge to
Dear old Epsom High.

Tho' the storms of life assail us,
Always we'll be true.
Naught can break the friendships formed at
Dear old Epsom School.

FOREWORD

In this 1964 edition of the RAMBLER, we have tried to preserve some of the memorable experiences we have shared with our classmates and teachers. It is, of course, impossible to record all our cherished memories on these few pages.

We hope that you, too, will be reminded of the friendships and events that have been so much a part of your life at our beloved Epsom High School.

DEDICATION

For enthusiastically encouraging us and working with us on our magazine sales, talent show, and other class projects . . . for leaving with us memories of our Junior-Senior Prom and Washington trip . . . for freely giving her time, energy, and talents whenever they were needed . . . and for making our junior year one to be pleasantly remembered by each of us, we, the Senior Class of Epsom High School, do gratefully dedicate the 1964 RAMBLER to Mrs. Sally C. Brenda,

Our last <sup>year</sup> is slowly drawing to a close. But I have really enjoyed these twelve years. I think this last year has been the most exciting. I will always remember you as one of the sweetest, nicest, and friendliest girls around. Best of luck to you in whatever you do.

Your friend,
Linda Stegall

Brenda,
I could write for hours to you. I've had lots of fun with you. I've had recitals where we've been in. All the time where the bug crawled across the piano. Boy! Our choir practices have been fun. The glee club concert was a blast. We will miss you next year. Behave yourself and study hard in college. Good luck in the future.

Love,
Delores (Loris)

Brenda,

Well, what can I say? I really enjoyed this year with you and all the other sixteen seniors. I'll never forget how nice you were to me when I first entered Eprom. Every time I see a typewriter I think of you. When I start to hit it I oftentimes see your face. Although I know you really hate me, I can't stop seeing your face on the keyboard. Sincerely, I'll always cherish you as a dear friend.  $\Omega$

Love,
Ann

Brenda,

You know we seemed to be together everywhere we go. You always managed to wake me up in time. Good luck at C. C. next year. When you become a teacher I am going to send my children to you.

Love,
Linda Faye B.

Brenda,
I know that it's a little late to apologise, but if I have offended you, (and I know I have), I sincerely apologise.
Remember words of old Chinese philosopher, Confucius, "Man who cannot pay for hat is in debt over his ears."
Best wishes

John John

and the time has come for those to end.
